

Responding to the current healthcare environment

We're covering 50% of your dental premium and 10% of your extended health care premium for the month of May

The coronavirus has forced many dental and health practitioner offices across the country to close. Generally, dentists are only performing emergency dental procedures.

No Interruption to coverage

Manulife will continue to cover health and dental claims that may be incurred by your plan members during the month of May. And when dental offices and health practitioner clinics re-open, plan members will be able to immediately resume services without any questions or concerns

Looking ahead to June

We don't know how long the current government guidelines, physical distancing rules, and business restrictions will last. So, we're taking it one month at a time. It's possible that restrictions will ease sooner in some provinces, but last longer in others. It's also possible that health care providers will come up with creative solutions to dealing with physical distancing requirements. For these reasons, we'll make decisions about June's health and dental premium relief when more information is available
